LOGO WITHOUT THE STRAPLINE

It is important that the logo appears consistently to reinforce brand image.

This logo is the only version to be used on white. The logo should not be presented in any other way when presented on a white background.

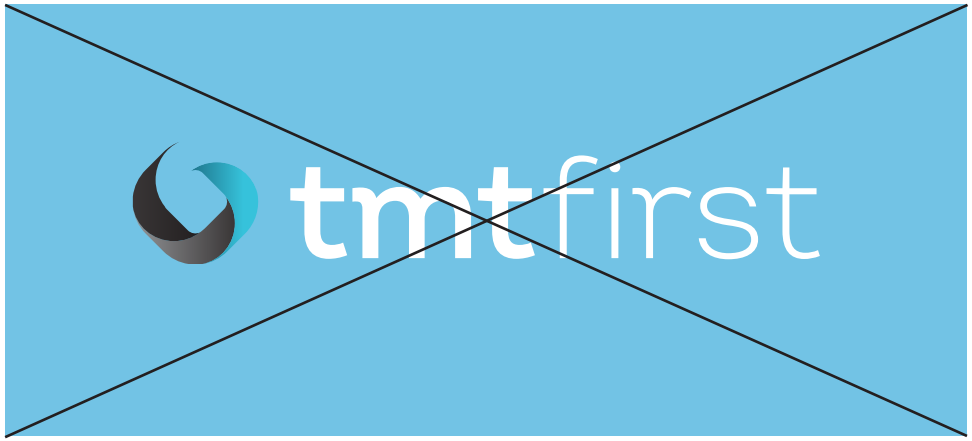
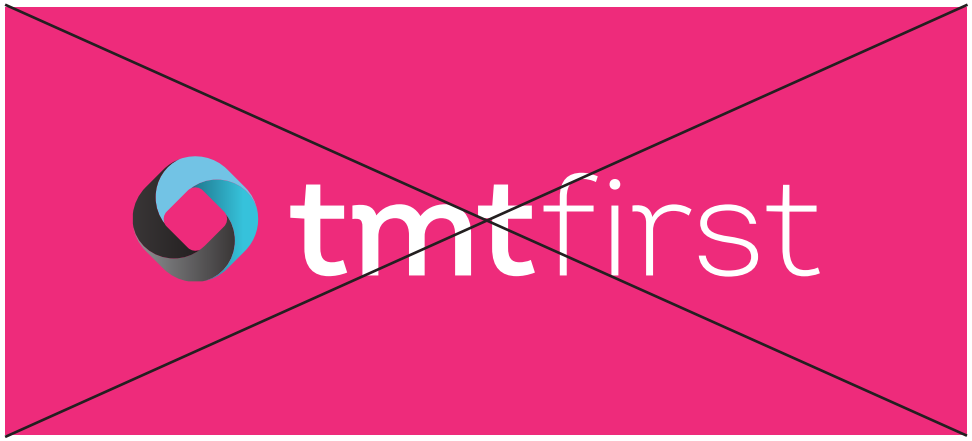
Background

The logo should be primarily positioned on a white or black background. If it needs positioning on an image, ensure it is placed over a very light area or very dark area of the image.

Do not place this variant of the logo on different background colours or over complex imagery.





Should it be essential that you need to place a logo over a different colour background, there is a reversed option.

These are examples.

Do not use the main logo over imagery of this nature, use the reversed logo.

The minimum printed size of the full logo is 40mm wide. The icon can be used at a smaller size.

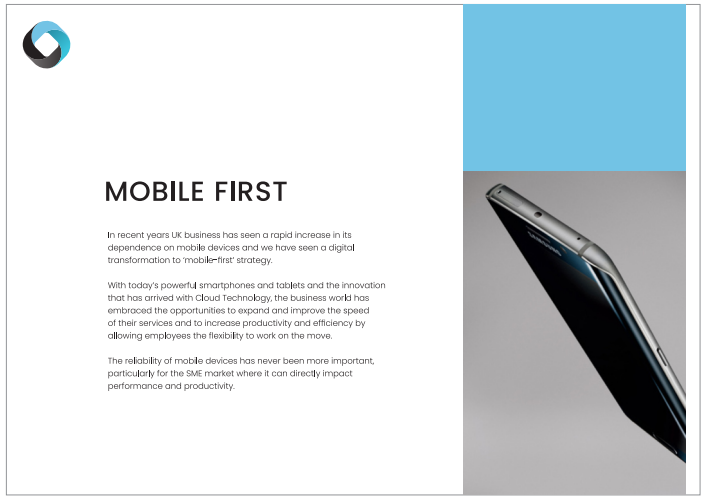
ICON

The icon can be used stand alone, as a sticker/icon for example on social media. While the brand is still being established it is inadvisable to use it without written reference to the company name.

The icon can be used as a stand alone design element but only when the full logo is used somewhere on the literature. For example on the business cards and PowerPoint presentation, see below.



MOBILE FIRST

In recent years UK business has seen a rapid increase in its dependence on mobile devices and we have seen a digital transformation to 'mobile-first' strategy.

With today's powerful smartphones and tablets and the innovation that has arrived with Cloud Technology, the business world has embraced the opportunities to expand and improve the speed of their services and to increase productivity and efficiency by allowing employees the flexibility to work on the move.

The reliability of mobile devices has never been more important, particularly for the SME market where it can directly impact performance and productivity.
